

CRYPT-A-CROSTIC #20—Solution

E. M. Forster: A Passage to India, Harcourt, Brace, 1924

. . . The menu was Julienne soup full of bottled peas, pseudo-cottage bread, fish full of branching bones, pretending to be plaice, . . . cutlets, trifle, sardines on toast: the menu of Anglo-India. . . the food of exiles, cooked by servants who did not understand it.
